The Department of Curriculum and Pedagogy has opportunity for part-time Sessional appointments. We are accepting applications for the following course:

EDCP 362D Special Study in Home Economics: Textile Studies (Lecture-Seminar), Richmond, B.C.

Summer Term 2 (July 11, 2016 to July 15, 2016)
Monday to Friday 9:30 a.m. to 4:00 p.m

This course will assist teachers to develop an inquiring approach to their curriculum design and evaluation in Textile Studies. As an area of study focused on practical skills for textiles, there are a number of challenges for Home Economics teachers and how they might manage and deliver content that engages learners in secondary school. Applicants must have a minimum of a recognized master's degree with relevant teaching experience and academic expertise for undergraduate courses. Applicants for the teacher education courses (300-400 level) should have experience in the K – 12 school system. They should be familiar with the system's structure and services, with the various stakeholder groups and with authorities involved in the provision of education in British Columbia. Duties include teaching, holding regular office hours, marking assignments, reporting grades, attending subject area meetings as well as follow-up appointments, where applicable.

UBC hires on the basis of merit and is committed to employment equity and diversity within its community. We especially welcome applications from members of visible minority groups, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, persons of minority sexual orientations and gender identities, and others with the skills and knowledge to engage productively with diverse communities. We encourage all qualified persons to apply; however, Canadian citizens and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.
