

Department of Curriculum and Pedagogy
February 3, 2022

The Department of Curriculum and Pedagogy has a part-time Sessional Instructor appointment available for Summer Term 2. We are accepting applications for the following course with 1 section available.

Earth and Space for Teaching: Topics and Pedagogical Approaches Secondary EDCP 455 section 951 (Lecture-Laboratory) in-person

Credits: 3 – P/F grading

Location: Vancouver

Summer Term 2 (July 4, 2022 to July 29, 2022)

Monday-Friday 10:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon in person

This summer course is required for students in the UBC BEd Secondary Science programme who do not have coursework in earth/space and is also open to all BEd students interested in teaching earth/space at the secondary level. Applicants must have a minimum of a recognized graduate degree in science education and a Bachelor of Education degree with a specialization in teaching secondary science with preference given to those with experience teaching earth/space. An undergraduate degree in science with coursework in earth/space is preferred. Recent relevant experience teaching in both online/virtual, hybrid, and in person settings and enacting the BC curriculum with a focus on First People's Principles of Learning, Place, with knowledge of and commitment to eco-justice/eco-consciousness and environmental ethics are required for this position. The applicant must be prepared to incorporate climate change education into the course curriculum and clearly indicate the ability to teach an online and hybrid version of this course. Experience teaching science in informal settings with a focus on outdoor education is an asset. The applicant will have experience with the BC K-12 school system's structure and services and with the various stakeholder groups and authorities involved in the provision of education in British Columbia. Duties include teaching in person on the Vancouver campus, with the experience and required skills to transition to online if required, holding office hours, marking assignments, reporting grades, attending subject area meetings as well as follow-up appointments, where applicable.

Equity and diversity are essential to academic excellence. An open and diverse community fosters the inclusion of voices that have been underrepresented or discouraged. We encourage applications from members of groups that have been marginalized on any grounds enumerated under the B.C. Human Rights Code, including sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, racialization, disability, political belief, religion, marital or family status, age, and/or status as a First Nation, Metis, Inuit, or Indigenous person.

All qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

Letters of application along with a current resume or CV are submitted to:

Dr. Sandra Scott
University of British Columbia
Faculty of Education
Department of Curriculum and Pedagogy
2125 Main Mall
Vancouver, BC V6T 1Z4

or by email at sandra.scott@ubc.ca

Deadline is March 1, 2022.

Due to the number of applications we receive, we are unable to confirm receipt of submissions over the phone or through the mail, nor can we provide the status of applicants except to those who are selected for an interview.

Also, due to scheduling and workload changes and plans within the Department, deadlines for applications may change and new job postings may be uploaded. We will try to indicate these changes but it is the responsibility of potential applicants to check the website periodically for changes.